

What Bail Reform Is &
Why It Matters
Living Our Faith Learning Opportunity
Coming October 28th

Across the country, the movement to end money bail for those accused of crimes is gaining steam. Reforming the bail bond system could have a huge impact on defendants, their families and whole communities. But how would a reformed bail system work? If you're curious, come hear our "Living our Faith" speaker after worship on October 28th! Michelle Day is a minister and a lawyer who works on this and other restorative justice projects. Our church is considering supporting this work —come see why!

2nd Act Players' Production of
"New Year's Eve at Grandma's House" is Coming in November

Children of immigrants often have different ideas of what it means to be an American than their parents. They are torn between two worlds. 2nd Act Players' next production, coming Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons, Nov. 3-18, explores this rich conflict.

Discussions of
"Race: The Power of an Illusion" Continue

We are now in the midst of conversations on the 3rd and final installment of the famed documentary series. "The House We Live In" explores how the blatant racism of the past translates into institutional racism today.

Join us as we learn together and consider the church's role moving forward. Thursday Nights at 7 in the Guild Room.
